TERRY'S TEXAS RANGERS.

The Mamelukes of the War.

I.

It is well known that the late Confederate States cavalry, so called, were in the main, strictly speaking, simply mounted infantry, doing splendid service, it is true, but always dismounting and preferring to dismount and fight, unless the want of time and circumstances prevented. Terry's Rangers were, however, an exception. They were organized, armed and equipped, and in action specially reserved for regular cavalry charging. Circumstances, and the nature of the ground, may have sometimes prevented, but this was their forte. Each was armed with a double barrelled shot-gun, two revolvers and a ponderous bowie, and adding to courage confidence, and being most excellent horsemen, they may in truth be said to have been the Mamelukes of the war. They were, in many respects, a remarkable body of men,—remarkable for the esprit du corps, their unwavering confidence in the final success of their cause, their lofty bearing in camp and in field, and the general intelligence of the rank and file. No bills of lading or chimney corner receipts for the cure of whooping cough and measles, or other false or fabricated papers, written or printed, ever passed spy or bummers, through lines guarded by ranger pickets; while their reports of the strength, position and movements of the enemy were always timely, valuable, and wonderfully correct. At Murfreesboro, Friday night, when Bragg was secretly and silently preparing for one of his famous movements to the rear, a ranger galloped up and exclaimed, "General the enemy himself is in full retreat." He was reprimanded and headquarters passed on. Afterward Hardee was heard to remark, "not a devil of those rangers but would make at least a brigadier." Their excellent material is accounted for by the fact that they were picked men, and the flower of the Texas youth. It had been charged by the Union men, pending the vote on the proposition for the State to secede, that a secession was war, and that, having brought it on, rich men's sons would seek place and power, and poor men would have to do the fighting. This aspersion it was important to refute, once for all, and at the first bugle's blast. Accordingly, Terry, the Bayard of the State, issued a call, which inspired the wildest enthusiasm, and the sons of the most eminent, most influential and most wealthy, vied with each other in a zealous and prompt response. In less than ten days the regiment was filled above the maximum. Numbers went away disappointed, some dejected, like the Spartans of old, because not chosen to die for their country. At their own request they were sworn in "for the war," absolutely and without condition, and this month's antenor to the call for troops for three years.—Each man furnished his own horse, arms and equipments, and in a large measure, paid his own way to the seat of conflict. They left Houston, Texas, 1160 strong; 500 recruits were received from time to time, making a total muster roll of 1660 names. They were in over one hundred distinct engagements from first to last, from Woodsonville, Ky., to Graham Station, N. C., near which place they fought the last fight of the war, and surrendered, 214 all told, with but one deserter.

II.

Gen. Albert Sidney Johnson, at Shiloh, witnessing their charge in column upon a strong position, while Hardee moved in the rear, and which resulted in the capture of Gen. Prentiss and his entire command, enthusiastically exclaimed, "with a little more discipline they would be the equals of the Old Guard." Tuesday evening at Shiloh, the enemy had passed to within one mile of Breckenridge, who was covering the retreat with the remains of his shattered and wearied division. Midway between, the rangers were contesting the ground almost truly inch by inch. The fresh troops of Buell, impatient at delay, and flushed with the hope of overtaking and capturing the gallant Kentuckian and his entire force, which they believed exhausted and a sure prey and hard running and two days' desperate fighting, now threw forward two regiments of infantry, supported by one of Ohio cavalry, who, in fine array, came rapidly on as hounds and hunters when their game is at bay. The rangers had suffered a loss of over one hundred, more than ten per cent., in the two days previous conflicts. Wharton, their third Colonel since the mournful fall of Terry at Woodsonville, had lost several horses, was twice wounded and borne to the rear late, the preceding day. Lieutenant Colonel Ferrel, detached with two companies to burn the white-tented cities, still standing despite the storm that had swept through and over them, was yet absent; so that the whole force left under Major Harrison did not exceed three hundred men. He had just wheeled from column of fours into line-of-battle, stretching across the road, and exhorted his men to check their pursuers and give the little army placed in their keeping time to bridge through the mire that impeded their wearied limbs, or opportunity to form if necessary, when Forrest with forty men rode up and lengthened the line to the right. The enemy halted. A level space of some six hundred yards lay between, clear and open except a dead tree here and there on the opposite side. Behind these trees sharpshooters took post and began to pour in damaging shots just as the command "Reserve fire for close quarters, forward!" passed from right to left re-echoed by subalterns. Horse and rider though both were jaded, caught new life, and swept onward, straight onward at topmost speed.—The horse, noble everywhere, nowhere bears himself so proudly as in battle. He seemed conscious of the danger into which he plunges, anxious to bear his rider the foremost and bravest of them all; and mortal must be the wound if either forsakes his trust. The well known Texas yell is raised now, and swells louder and louder, and even above the roar of musketry. Horse and rider, one, the other, now in heaps, fall, but the line knits together where gaps have been made, and moves, thunders on into the deadliest sheet of flame. Anon, they waver. The horses falter. A miry bog has impeded the way, but they clear it. At fifty yards the double barrels, loaded with buck and ball, are brought into play, each volley making wide openings in the enemy's line.

Still shouting and "slinging" their guns on the pommels of their saddles, the rangers draw revolvers and make short fire and finishing work, just as the rattling of artillery coming to the enemy's relief is heard in the distance. One-third of the enemy's infantry are rode and shot down. The remainder break and flee through the ranks of their cavalry. These are bowed further and further back, and despite the appeals of their gallant Colonel to stand firm, they yield or flee—one, two, and squads at a time—until their leader falls, and the Gray are victorious to the last on Shiloh's bloody ground.

LIFE INSURANCE.

THE KNICKERBOCKER MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY, OF NEW YORK.

Southern Branch, SAVANNAH, Ga.

A. WILBUN, Manager.
R. D. ARNOLD, Consulting Physician.

THE ONLY BRANCH OFFICE OF LIFE INSURANCE IN THIS SECTION WHERE POLICIES ARE ISSUED AND LOSSES PAID.

ASSETS NEARLY

$ 5,000,000.

ANNUAL INCOME NEARLY

$3,000,000.

Annual Dividends nearly 50 per cent.

$73,500 LOSSES PAID BY THE SOUTHERN BRANCH IN TWO YEARS.

THE KNICKERBOCKER IS AN OLD, RELIable Company, and offers as great inducements to insurers as any solvent Company can. Issues Policies on every desirable plan. Loans one-third of Premium to Policy-Holder.

All Policies non-forfeitable, as the insured can at any time, on demand, get its surrender value.

NO RESTRICTIONS ON RESIDENCE OR TRAVEL.

NO EXTRA CHARGE for OFFICERS of the ARMY or NAVY. Officers of first-class Steam or Sail Vessels, or Railroad Conductors, &c.

The "KNICKERBOCKER" is ONE of the TWO Northern Companies whose Policies in the South were kept intact during the entire Rebellion, whose Dividends were accredited to Policy Holders as though Premiums were paid.

And is THE Company that paid all losses after the war, that occurred during the war, thus proving its integrity, the honorable method of conducting its business, and its indisputable solvency.

The KNICKERBOCKER still pays all losses, never disputes a just claim, and is as liberal and SAFE as any Company in America.

Importance of Life Insurance.

Read another forcible illustration of how the CONNECTICUT MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY pays its losses:—

"Received, at Raleigh, N. C., Jan 29th, 1869, of S. D. Wait, General Agent of the Conn Mutual Life Ins Co., two thousand five hundred and forty-five dollars, in full payment of Policy No. 84,031, and dividend on the life of my late husband, ——, and I hereby surrender all my right, title and interest in the same to said Company.
(Signed) ——— ———, of Newbern, N. C."

We refrain from publishing the names of the parties, because we do not think it advisable to publish one's private business, but will state, although the party had not been insured quite five months, yet received a 50 per cent. dividend of $45 on the premium paid. The dividends of this Company have been larger than those of any other, averaging over 50 per cent. annually, from the beginning and the present dividend (Feb 1st, 1869,) exceeds the average. On this fourteenth annual dividend the Directors have, besides declaring a 45 per cent. dividend upon the premium paid, declared a per centage dividend on the surplus reserve arising from interest, which increases the policy holder's dividend annually, and on some policies pays over 70 per cent. this year. They have also adopted a reduced dividend premium table with immediate annual dividends.

This company is purely mutual; there are no Stockholders to absorb its earnings. It offers abundant security in a large accumulated fund of over TWENTY-THREE MILLIONS DOLLARS, derived alone from its business, and has $154 assets securely invested for every $100 of its liabilities.—Its plans of business comprise all the desirable forms of insurance.

LIFE INSURANCE.

ÆTNA

LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,

HON. E. A. BULKELEY, President,
AUSTIN DUNHAM, Vice "
T. O. ENDERS, Secretary.
H. W. STJOHN, Actuary.

SUMMARY OF BUSINESS FOR 1867

Total Assets, over	$10,000,000
Polices Insured in '67,	15,251
Am'nt insured, nearly	$45,000,000
Policies Average "	3,000
Receipts for 1867,	5,129,447
Surplus for Dividends,	2,000,000

Dividend Fifty per cent.

Receipts for Interest Nearly Paid Its Losses.

It has $130 Assets for every $100 Liabilities.

Its premium receipts at the present time are nearly HALF A MILLION DOLLARS per month and are rapidly increasing.

The growth of the Ætna has never been equaled by any other Company whatsoever, in Europe or America.

Particular attention is called to the fact that while its business is increasing unprecedentedly, its ratio of expenses is comparatively small.

ECONOMY of management, CARE in the selection of risks promptness in the payment of death claims, and security in the investment of its immense Trust Funds, are rigidly adhered to, and have ever characterized this Company.

The ÆTNA issues all the favorite kinds of Policies at the most favorable rates.

The ÆTNA issued last year more Endowment Insurances than any other Company.

The ÆTNA'S ratio of expenses, or cost of new business is less than any other Company whatsoever, and less than two-thirds of the average.

The ÆTNA is as liberal in permits to travel, in all parts of the world, as a sound discretion will warrant, and is much more liberal than any other prominent Company.

ANNUAL INCOME over $6,000,000.

The only Company that has the Low Participating Non-forfeitable Term Insurance with privilege of renewal. Ex. of rate at age 30 $14 67, which is nearly 40 per cent. lower than any other leading Company. Also Non-forfeiting cash rates with dividends on contribution plan and payable at the end of the first year.

Description of Policies.

First—Whole Life Policies.

Second—Endowment Policies, for terms of ten fifteen, twenty, twenty-five, thirty, and thirty-five years.

AGES.

Insurance will be granted at all ages from fifteen to sixty years.

PREMIUMS.

Premiums are payable annually during the continuance of the insurance, or annually during a period of five, ten, fifteen, or twenty years within the insurance term, or by single payment.

DIVIDENDS.

All Whole Life and Endowment Policies, issued at the rates published herewith, will participate in the surplus from the date of issue,

The dividends will be declared and paid annually upon the contribution plan, and may be applied as the assured shall elect, either to reduce future premiums, or to increase the Cash Value of the Policy.

If no election be made the dividends will be added to the Cash Values.

When, by adding the dividends to the Cash Value, the accumulations on any Policy shall have become sufficient to keep the same in force for its full amount, without further payments, the assured may, at his option, either continue payment of premiums—and enlarge thereby the annual additions to its Cash Value—or discontinue them; and in either case, when the accumulations shall have become equal to the sum insured, the annual dividends on the Policy will be declared as a per centage of said sum, and paid in cash, and upon surrender of said Policy the sum insured thereby will be paid in full, without regard to the time fixed therein for its payment.

The system of applying the dividends is peculiarly advantageous to the assured, securing, at an increased age, not only relief from further payment of premiums, but, at the same time, an annual income until death, unless he shall have previously received full payment of the Policy.

Dividends on paid-up Policies—that is, Policies which require no further payment of premium to continue them in force for the original amount of insurance—will be paid in cash upon demand.

NON-FORFEITURE RULES.

No whole Life or Endowment Policy, on which two or more annual cash premiums have been paid, shall be forfeited by failure to make further payment as stipulated therein, but will continue in force for the full amount which the Cash Value and dividends, then accumulated, will purchase, taken as a single net premium, upon the "Actuaries" rate of mortality and four per cent. interest; and the amount continued in force will generally exceed the aggregate of the payments actually made, extra charges excepted.

CAPITAL STOCK, $228,500.

Nett Assets of the Company, July 1st, 1868, $330,949.06.

Insures lives, and promptly adjusts and pays losses. Its principal business is with Southern States, and to them it appeals for patronage. It has ample means to fully protect Policy holders and pay all losses.

The "Southern" combines the advantage of both note and cash system, stock and mutual—such as choose to pay cash may do so and secure a non-forfeitable policy and all the advantages of a Cash Company. The privilege of a permanent loan for one-third is granted to all who desire it.

It makes investments at home in good and reliable securities, thereby tending to make money more plenty in our midst, and to aid in developing the resources of our section, and to stop the annual drain of over SIX Million dollars, which are being sent North for Life Insurance.

Its profits are equitably distributed among Policy holders and Stockholders.

In its organization are presented men of experience in Life Insurance, and their aim will be to make the "Southern Life" the exponent of the business, enterprise and progress of the present day.

LIFE INSURANCE.

The Most Vigorous and the Most Liberal Insurance Company in the Country.

BROOKLYN LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,

141 Broadway, N. Y.

ASSETS OVER

$1,000,000!

CHRISTIAN W. BOUCK, ... President.
ABRAM D. POLHEMUS, ... Vice President.
WILLIAM M. COLE, ... Secretary.
D. P. FACKLER, ... Consulting Actuary.
DANIEL AYRES, M. D. LL.D., Med. Examiner.

POLICIES ISSUED AN GOOD AS UNITED STATES BONDS.

POLICIES VALUABLE IN LIFE AS AT DEATH!

The BROOKLYN LIFE is the only Company in the country which guaranties a definite surrender-value to every Policy on which two or more annual premiums have been paid; this amount, in dollars and cents, is endorsed on every Policy issued. should any Policy-holder become unable to pay his premiums, he can thus know the cash worth of the Policy at any time after two annual premiums have been paid.

This certainty is the greatest inducement and most tangible advantage ever accorded to parties insuring their lives.

Among the advantages offered by the BROOKLYN, which thoroughly evince the determination of the officers to make it the MOST LIBERAL Life Insurance Company in the United States, are:

1st. TOTAL REMOVAL OF ALL RESTRICTIONS ON TRAVEL AND RESIDENCE. The Assured may travel or reside anywhere they choose, the world over, without extra premium or special permit.

2d. A Loan of one-third of the Premium to the Policy-Holder Annually.

3d. All Policies are non-forfeitable after two full annual premiums have been paid.

4th. Rates as low as are consistent with financial soundness, and less than those of almost all Companies which accommodate their assured with loans.

5th. Dividends annually (after second year) in cash. Dividends are divided on the CONTRIBUTION PLAN—the only equitable manner of dividing the earnings of a Life Insurance Company. The Contribution Plan was first conceived by Mr. D. P. Fackler, now Actuary of this Company and has been adopted by most of the best managed Life Companies in this country.

The BROOKLYN LIFE has paid and now pays to its Policy-holders LARGER DIVIDENDS than ever before paid by a Life Insurance Company!

6th. Promptitude in paying losses.

7th. No charge for policy or stamp.

The success which the "BROOKLYN" has achieved, fully exemplified in its rapid and healthful growth, is a convincing proof of the confidence reposed by the public in its soundness, integrity and liberality.

GOVERNOR HOLDEN'S PROFANITY.

It was a saying of Clymer, a signer of the declaration of Independence, that "swearing in conversation, was powder without ball."

Nothing is truer, than this declaration Nobody was hurt by the Governor's oaths, except his own soul, and the dignity of the State. If the Governor has no soul, and the State no character, then, no body is hurt.

The Court was not hurt by his profanity, nor was Henderson Adams, the Auditor, relieved, nor his papers moved by it; at least, the Governor's oaths had not moved his papers at sun down yesterday, for we saw them, at that hour, in the rotunda, as Judge Dick would say," lying in hotch-pot. Some of the papers are as well folded, and apparently in as good order as they were when the Auditor had a room. The Auditor does not look as if he had been much used to handling and folding papers. However, it is never too late to learn. Socrates learned to play the fiddle at sixty.

When we saw the confused heap of papers, looking like an Edgecombe compost heap, we concluded all that dust did not accumulate by the removal, and we thought it was witness against the neatness, if not cleanliness, of the Auditor. The thought struck us, that the papers were left there, these three days and nights, not because the Auditor was unable to remove them in that time, but to excite sympathy for the Auditor, and indignation against the Court. We thought, the Governor, and Victor Barringer might have told the Auditor to stand over his papers with Friday Jones and Henry Horner, as Mark Antony did over Cæsar's dead body, and make members and men feel "the dint of pity" for the Auditor.

If the Auditor had been a scholar and orator, as Antony was, and as Coleman and Vantor are, he could have stirred the blood of the 'hands' to mutiny, against the Court.

The papers lay exactly right. They lay in a huge, confused heap, near the foot of the steps where all the hands passed to go to work in the Hall, (or, Church of the Strangers, as some of Pepper's congregation call it.) Papers, with the great seal of State, could be seen in the heap.

If the Auditor had only been Antony, as the hands passed, he would have said: "Friends, hands, here I am to speak what I do know. Hands, you all did love me once, and not without cause! Why, now, do you withhold to mourn for me! See you this heap of papers! Bear with me, my heart is in that pile, I must pause 'till it comes back again. But yesterday, I, the Auditor, might have stood against the world! Now, none so poor as do me reverence! Hands, if I were disposed, I could stir your minds to mutiny and rage against the Court; but, I will not; I rather choose to wrong myself and my office, and my great seal of State. Good hands, sweet hands, I am no orator, as Coleman is, I am no orator as Turpentine Joe is; but, as you know me, a plain, blunt man, that love my friends as all negroes know, who gave me this office and this great seal of State.—Good hands, sweet hands, mourn not for me! dry your eyes, and go to you work—Don't sin your souls by cursing, as the Governor did."

The hands did go to work.

In the Senate, Mr. Wynne offered a bill to provide a room for the Auditor. Mr. Sweet offered a substitute, giving the Governor, by advice and consent of the Council of State, authority to assign the Supreme Court, and State officers' rooms in the Capitol and Executive Mansion. Rev. Welker objected; he said the Supreme Court was the creature of the people, and should take the room assigned them by the General Assembly. The Senate finally empowered the Governor to settle the difficulty between the Auditor and the Court.

Not so with the House. They have refused to concur with the Senate. While the Senate is settling the dispute between the Auditor and Court, as to their room, a fight occurs between the Doorkeeper and the Engrossing clerk, about their room. This was war between a carpet-bagger and native. During the day, the fight was repeated three times. The native, who was doorkeeper, showing most game and the carpet-bagger, most power. The native was badly whipped, and much worse bruised than the Attorney General was by the Speaker of the House in their two fights.

Let us have peace!

"Hands," no more fighting!

"Governor," no more swearing!

UNIVERSITY OF VIRGINIA.—We are pleased to learn that this institution is in a prosperous condition, and that its prospects for the future, are flattering. At a recent meeting of the literary societies, the following gentlemen were elected officers and orators for the Anniversary celebration, to come off on the 13th of April. Mr. Wythe of Georgia, was elected President, and Mr. Jeffries, of Virginia, Orator, of the Washington Society.

Mr. R. S. Williams, of Alabama, elected President, and Mr. C. P. McKesson, of North Carolina, Orator of the Jefferson Society.

THE New York Herald announces the appointment of Dr. W. H. Johnston, formerly of Charlotte, as Medical Director in Bellevue Hospital, N. Y.

THERE are only six Post offices in the county of Mecklenburg.

CHATHAM MEETING.

We learn that Mr. Manning's letter condemning the meeting of the people of Chatham was written in this city. We propose to ask him a question or two.

Mr. Manning, do you approve of Solicitor Sherrard's whipping an old negro to death for stealing a chicken? If so, condemn the people of Chatham.

Do you approve of Billy Henderson's conduct, who now stands indicted for stealing a mule? If so, condemn the people of Chatham.

Do you approve of Treasurer Jenkins hanging that old negro woman? If so, condemn the people of Chatham.

Do you approve of Judge Jone's public drunkenness in the streets of this city? If you do, condemn the people of Chatham.

Do you approve of Judge Tourgee's canvassing for Congress as he rode the last circuit, wrangling and fighting with Henderson? If you do, condemn the people of Chatham.

Do you approve of Judge Starbuck's conduct, after being a member of the Secession Convention in 1861, in company with Judge Dick and Governor Holden, then swearing he had never given aid, countenance, or encouragement to the rebellion? If you do, condemn the people of Chatham.

Do you approve of the Attorney General's public drunkenness? If you do, condemn the people of Chatham.

Let me tell you, Mr. Manning, that meeting has, at least, two men in it, Mr. Taylor and Mr. Burns, and that is double the number that appears with you in condemning it. The people of Chatham, speaking out in that way, has had its effect. Since that meeting Senator Galloway, colored, but the most liberal, and influential Republican in the Senate, has said, in open session, that the Attorney General's office, in the Capitol, should be given to the Auditor, as the Attorney General was seldom in his office.—Think you, he would have so spoken if the people of Chatham had held no meeting, and lead off in the just condemnation of the Attorney General.

A Radical member of the General Assembly, since the Chatham meeting, has been heard to say, "If Coleman does not resign his place as Attorney General, he will prefer articles of impeachment against him and have him removed. Think you, unsustained by the people of Chatham, he would have been so bold?

We understand this member is for putting Victor Barringer in the place of Coleman. That would be characteristic of the party, and a poor swap for the State.

SUPREME COURT OPINIONS.

The following opinions have been delivered:

By Pearson, C. J., in Gibson vs. Smith, from Cabarrus, no error, judgment affirmed. In Scott vs. Elliott, from Chatham, venire de novo.

By Reade, J., in McKesson vs. Bynum, from Burke, no error. In Lattemore vs. Dixon, from Cleaveland, demurrer overruled.

By Rodman, J., in Blankinship vs. McMahon, from Yancey, error. In Wadsworth vs. Davis, remanded.

By Dick, J., in Perry vs. Campbell, from Alexander, judgment affirmed. In Morrison vs. Cornelius, from Iredell, judgment affirmed so far as appealed from by plaintiff, judgment reversed and venire de novo, so far as appealed from by defendant.

By Settle, J., in Shipp vs. Hettrick, from Rutherford, report of Commissioners be reformed so as to charge the plaintiff with the value of Confederate money received on the sale notes in 1862, and also with the value of Confederate money received in 1863, on the bond of C. L. and J. W. Harris, and referred to the Clerk. In Mary Dunn, ex parte, from Wake, no error, judgment affirmed.

WE learn says the Fayetteville Eagle that Mr. Duncan McLauchlin, an old and highly respected citizen living near Long Street, in this county, was attacked and most cruelly beaten, in his house, by three white men and one negro, on Monday night last. A negro on Mr. McLauchlin's place came to his relief, but was knocked down and ran off for safety. It seems no other person was interferred with and nothing was stolen. The parties were not known. It a few of such characters were ku-kluxed it might help.

A bold robber, a short time ago, entered the dwelling of Mr. Walter Watson, on Haymount, and while all the family were at supper, he went to the room of Mrs. Ingram, a member of Mr. Watson's family, and stole $60 in currency belonging to Mrs. Ingram.

THEY REFUSED to recognize Georgia as a State of the Union the other day in counting the electoral vote. In the treatment of the South, Congress constantly reminds us of a game of cards we suffered at in England, called, "Now you see it, and now you don't see it!" Sometimes we are in the Union, and sometimes we are out of it. It is a sort of binocular vision. We seceded, and we didn't secede; the Pierpoint government of Virginia was legitimate, and it was illegitimate; Georgia is in the Union and it is not in the Union. Mississippi has, or has not, a constitution. Alabama rejected the reconstruction acts, and is nevertheless in Louisiana is, or is she? Do give us certain premises; we do not know what to do. Let us go, or devour us. Anything but this imperial trifling.—Richmond Examiner.

If our South Carolina exchanges are not mistaken, the colored population of our sister State, are very ignorant. They say, the negro cannot understand how a sheriff, elected by themselves, should turn around and ask them to pay taxes. This is not all they will find it difficult to understand when they come in contact with the laws the same as white people. About all they can clearly understand is that they are "free," and upon this they base a right to do as they please."

A QUEER CASE.—A negro by the name of Peter White, aged about 35, and partially deranged, was admitted into the city hospital yesterday. He presented a strange appearance; and the toes of his feet were so badly frozen that the amputation of the whole five on one foot and two on the other was found necessary.—Wil. Journal.

Legislature of North Carolina.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

NIGHT SESSION.

MONDAY, Feb. 15, 1869.

House was called to order at half past 7 o'clock.

Mr. Sinclair moved to reconsider the vote by which the bill in relation to the weighing of rosin in the city of Wilmington.—Carried.

After a considerable debate between Mr. McMillain who opposed the bill, and Messrs Sinclair, French and Estes, who favored it, the bill passed i s third reading.

SPECIAL ORDER.

The bill to entitled an act to raise revenue.

Mr. Jarvis moved to add a proviso to section 1 chapter 1: "That all the taxes for State and county purposes imposed upon the real and personal property of the State shall in no case exceed two thirds of one per cent."

Mr. Jarvis said he did not intend to make any extended remarks upon this matter as this proviso was nothing more than carrying out the plain provisions of the Constitution. He thought this was the proper place for this Assembly to state explicitly, now they were levying taxes, whether or not they intended to confine themselves to the constitutional limitations.

Messrs. Estes, Vest and others, opposed it on the ground that the bill was no place for it as it was a matter for the Supreme Court to decide as to this limitation.

Mr. Mendenhall said he hoped the gentlemen would stick up to their promises to the people last Spring. All Republican speakers in that campaign declared that this was the limitation and that taxation could not go beyond it. Upon the adoption of the amendment, the yeas and nays being called resulted in the following ballot:

YEAS.—Messrs. Armstrong, Ashworth, Banner, Barnes, Blair, Boddie, Clayton, of Transylvania, Durham, Ferebee, Gibson, Green, Gunter, Hawkins, High, Hinnant, Humphries, Ingram, Jarvis, Justus, of Henderson, Justice, of Rutherford, Kelly, of Davie, Kelly, of Moore, Kinney, Leary, Long, of Chatham, Long, of Richmond, Malone, McMillan, Mendenhall, Moore, Nicholson, Parker, Pou, Proffit, Robinson, Shaver, Siegrist, Smith, of Alleghany, Stanton, Thompson, Vestal, Welch, Whitley, Williams, of Harnett and Williams, of Sampson.

NAYS.—Messrs. Argo, Barnett, Carson, Carey, Dixon, Downing, Ellington, Estes, Forkner, Franklin, French, Gahagan, Gatling, Graham, Hayes, Hendricks, Hilliard, Hodgin, Horney, Hudgings, Laflin, Mayo, McCanless, Morrill, Morris, Pearson, Price, Robbins, Reynolds, Sinclair, Simonds, Snipes, Stevens, Stilley, Vest, Waldrop, White, Wilson and Wiswall.

Mr. Estes changed his vote to the affimative.

Mr. Durham moved to reconsided the vote.

Mr. Estes succeded in getting the floor and moved to adjourn, which was carried by a vote of yeas 40 nays 37.

The House accordingly adjourned until to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock.

SENATE.

TUESDAY, Feb. 16, 1869.

Mr. Lassiter presented a communication from Richard Holloman, of Granville, setting forth the suffering condition of the people of said county relative to their indebtedness, &c., urging the General Assembly to take some action to remedy the same.

On motion of Mr. Osborne, it was laid on the table.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

Mr. Graham, from the Committee on the Judiciary, reported favorably on the following bills, viz:

Bill to declare persons of color competent to testify in all cases;

Bill to define and punish bribery.

Mr. Lassiter arose and said: Mr. President: It is a painful and solemn duty to have to announce to this Senate, the melancholy news of the death of Mr. Rich, Senator from Pitt. I feel totally inadequate to express my feelings on this sad occasion, and trust this body will now proceed to take such action as is due to the memory of our deceased brother.

Mr. Hayes introduced the following resolutions, to wit:

WHEREAS, by the unseen wisdom of the Most High, this General Assembly has again been visited by the Angel of Death, and an honored member been taken from our midst, and

WHEREAS, in the death of Hon. D. J. Rich, this General Assembly recognizes the loss of a valuable Senator, his family a beloved member, and society a true man; Therefore

Resolved, That we tender to the relatives and friends of the deceased our most heartfelt sympathy in this sad bereavement.

Resolved, That a Committee consisting of two members on the part of each branch of the General Assembly be appointed to accompany the remains of the deceased to its final resting place.

Resolved, That the General Assembly wear the usual badge of mourning for 30 days.

Resolved, That these resolutions be published in the Standard and Sentinel of this City; and a copy be transmitted to the family of the deceased.

Mr. Robbins said: Mr. President, I most heartily second the resolutions which have been offered as a testimony of respect and regard for the deceased Senator—my heart prompts me to do so. One of his last acts as a member of this body, was an act of justice and kindness towards me, personally. He died my friend, although a political opponent. I recognized in him, a just and liberal man, as well as a man of high talent and extensive cultivation. His death has deprived us of a useful and efficient member. We shall miss him here in my heart his name shall be cherished,—and for his justice toward me, and his many other praiseworthy deeds, may blessings be on his memory.

Mr. Welker said: Mr. President, yesterday we heard the stealthy approach of death to this chamber, to-day we see his traces. The manly form of the Senator from Pitt lies cold in his embraces. My first acquaintance with Senator Rich was made on the assembling, of the Convention to form a Constitution. Being myself an adopted citizen of North Carolina, I was naturally attracted to him, I have in all my intercourse with him, then and since as a Senator ever found him a generous and high minded gentleman, greatly will his presence be missed from this Chamber when his patriotic and liberal words will no longer be heard. Called from his green mountain home, he raised his valiant arm and perilled his life for his country.—When the war was over, he made his home in North Carolina. To his adopted State he gave his best energies. This State has no nobler friend to lose than he who now sleeps to wake no more on earth. In this dispensation of Heaven, each Senator feels that he has lost a friend, and it will be pleasant to cherish the memory of his kindness. What an admonition to each Senator to be diligent and earnest in the discharge of every duty that he owes to his country and humanity. To those who believe in the truths of holy religion; who believe in the judgment; who have faith in Christ, how deeply solemn this mysterious call; once, yea, twice, has God spoken to us.—To day be ye also ready to meet your God.

Mr. Graham said: Mr. President, not hearing, until a few moments ago, of the decease of our late friend, the Senator from Pitt, I feel myself unable to pay that tribute of respect to his memory and worth which I could desire. Forming his acquaintance early in the session of the late Constitutional Convention, and a member with him of the Committee on Suffrage and Eligibility to office, I bear cheerful testimony to the services which he has rendered the State, of his adoption, and to the liberal views which actuated his conduct. I well remember with what zeal and earnestness he urged the shackles which had been struck by an act of Congress from the colored race should not be raised by that Convention and placed upon any of the white people of North Carolina. He thought that the sufferings and humiliations which we had undergone were a sufficient punishment for even the greatest offender, without a denial of any of these rights or privileges with which they had formerly been invested. When the asperities consequent upon the changes in our State government have subsided, all classes will render that meed of praise and gratitude which is justly due to our departed friend. I cannot let this occasion pass without expressing my admiration for the generous and magnanimous spirit with which he viewed our late troubles. Himself an officer in the Federal army in the late struggle, he was ever ready to accord honest convictions of what they deemed to be right and sacred to those who had followed opposing banners. Of this body he was a useful member, although often differing from him in regard to questions of public policy, I have always found him kind and courteous in the expression of his opinions. Mingling with us but a few days ago apparently in the prime of life, he now lies a corpse and it is our sad duty to pay the last tribute of respect to his memory and to express our sense of the loss which we have sustained. I earnestly second the resolutions which have been introduced.

Mr. Osborne followed in an eloquent and touching tribute to the memory of the deceased. We regret that we have not the space to publish his remarks in full.

Messrs. Sweet and Jones also made short and appropriate remarks.

The resolutions were adopted.

Messrs. Graham and Hayes compose the Senate branch of the Committee to accompany the remains to its last resting place.

On motion of Mr. Robbins, it was agreed that the Senate, in a body, accompany the corpse to the Depot.

On motion of A. H. Galloway, (colored) the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

TUESDAY, Feb. 16, 1869.

On motion of Mr. Downing, the rules were suspended, and House bill No. 411, authorizing the Commissioners of Union county, to levy a special tax for certain purposes, was taken up and passed its second reading by a vote of yeas 72 nays none.

By consent Mr. Sinclair, from the Committee on Private Bills, reported favorably upon the bill in reference to the public bridges, roads, &c., in Robeson county.

On motion the rules were suspended and the bill passed its several readings.

By consent Mr. Stilley, introduced a bill to repeal section 2 of an act passed by this General Assembly entitled an act to change the time of holding the Courts in the 9th, 10th, 11th and 12th Judicial Districts, so as to allow the Courts in the 8th Judicial District to be held as heretofore.

On motion of Mr. Stilley, the rules were suspended, and the bill passed its several readings.

Mr. Hinnant from the Committee on Enrolment, reported the following bills and resolutions as being correctly enrolled, to wit:

Bill to incorporate Lee Lodge, No. 253 A. Y. M., at Taylorsville, Alexander county.

Resolution in favor of A. J. Murry, Sheriff of Haywood county.

On motion of G. W. Price, colored, the rules were suspended, and the bill incorporating the Wilmington North Carolina Life Insurance Co., was taken up.

Pending the reading of the bill a message was received from the Senate, transmitting a resolution announcing the death of the Hon. D. J. Rich, a member of that body, raising a Joint Committee to accompany the remains home. (Resolutions published in Senate proceedings.)

The resolutions named Messrs. Hayes and Graham, as the Senate branch of said Committee.

On motion of Mr. Argo, the House concurred in the resolution.

The Chair announced Messrs. Argo and Peck, as the House branch of the aforesaid Committee.

On motion of Mr. Estes, it was agreed that the morning session after 11 o'clock, to-morrow, should be set aside to pay tributes to the memory of the late Senator.

On motion of Mr. French, it was further agreed that the House, in body should escort the remains to the depot.

On motion of Mr. Estes, the House then adjourned until to-morrow morning 10 o'clock.

VIRGINIA ITEMS.

A "NEW MOVEMENT."—The colored people of Lexington intend to celebrate the 23d of February, and have invited Governor Fetcher, Maj. Yellott, Rev. Mr. Pratt, and the Rev. Mr. Jones, to deliver addresses on the occasion.

WASHINGTON COLLEGE.—The Rev. R. A. Holland, of Baltimore, has accepted an invitation to deliver an address before the Literary Societies of Washington College at the Commencement in June.

A committee of citizens of Prince Edward are in Richmond petitioning General Stoneman to remove the county seat to Farmville.

ANOTHER.—The carpet bag "Gov." turned loose another penitentiary bird on last Wednesday.

The grading of the Norfolk and Great Western railroad, is being vigorously prosecuted near Danville.

We were very agreeably surprised yesterday to find among our exchanges the Daily Transcript, which has just been issued in Portsmouth, by the publisher and proprietor of the Transcript of former days, our old friend and brother, D. D. Fiske.

It is a medium-size sheet and handsomely printed, clear and neat, as Fiske knows how to get out.

The Salutatory is well conceived, and its promises will no doubt be fulfilled. It is independent, and while party politics will be avoided, it will speak its mind on any subject it may choose to discuss.

We are gratified to observe that it gives proof of this determination in its utterances on the new movement, which are decided and orthodox. It is "agin" it.

We congratulate the people of Portsmouth on the acquisition of a daily representative in the State press, which it should have had long ago, and we wish all success and prosperity to the enterprise of our friend D. D.—Pet. Express.

RICH.—One citizen of Lynchburg, we learn, returned an income of $95,000 for the last year.

TO THE VOTERS OF THE SIXTEENTH SENATORIAL DISTRICT COMPOSED OF THE COUNTIES OF HARNETT, CUMBERLAND AND SAMPSON.

Having received the unanimous nomination of the Conservative Convention which assembled in Fayetteville on the 12th of February, I hereby announce myself as a candidate for a seat in the Senate of North Carolina, and respectfully solicit your suffrages for that position on the 25th of the present month. I shall stand and squarely on the platform of our country, of Constitutional rights and Constitutional freedom, and, relying on the strenuous efforts of the friends who have thus honored me, I feel that the right must prevail and we must be again represented by a Conservative in the Assembly of North Carolina.—The time is so short that it is impossible for me to see many of the electors in the District, and I must, of course, rely mostly upon the friends of our cause, using at the same time all my individual efforts and ability to secure the position. If you favor me with your support you may be assured that all my energies, and all my ability, will be devoted to the interests of North Carolina, and to the rebuilding of our shattered fortunes.

Work! work! will be my watchword, and I call upon all the friends of the cause to aid me with their might and their suffrages.

Let us rise in the majesty of our strength, and again carry our District; unity and vigorous, persistent action will accomplish it. I am no banner by the Howard amendment, and can take my seat, if elected. Very respectfully

Your obt servt,
C TATE MURPHY.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Laxative Medicine.

Perhaps no one medicine is so universally required by everybody as a cathartic, nor was ever any before so universally adopted into use, in every country and among all classes, as this mild but efficient purgative Pill. The obvious reason is, that it is a more reliable and far more effectual remedy than any other. Those who have tried it, know that it cured them; those who have not, know that it cures their neighbors and friends, and all know that what it does once it does always—that it never fails through any fault or neglect of its composition. We have, and can show, thousands upon thousands of certificates of remarkable cures of the following complaints, but such cures are known in every neighborhood, and why should we publish them? Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates; containing neither calomel or any deleterious drug, they may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar coating preserves them ever fresh and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which those Pills rapidly cure:—

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Languor and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression a large dose should be taker as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well, often finds that a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus. There are numerous cases where a purgative is required, which we cannot enumerate here, but they suggest themselves to everybody, and where the virtues of this Pill are known, the public no longer doubt what to employ.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.

Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

So generally are its virtues known that it is unnecessary to publish the certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained.

To the People of the Southern States.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3, 1868.

When the pure medicinal restorative, now so widely known as Wolfe's Schiedam Schnapps, was introduced into the world under the endorsement of four thousand leading members of the medical profession some 20 years ago, its proprietor was well aware that it could not wholly escape the penalty attached to all new and useful preparations. He, therefore, endeavored to invest it with strongest possible safeguard against counterfeiters, and to render all attempts to pirate it difficult and dangerous. It was submitted to distinguished chemists for analysis, and pronounced by them the purest spirit ever manufactured. Its purity and properties having been thus ascertained, samples of the article were forwarded to ten thousand physicians, including all the leading practitioners in the United States, for purposes of experiment. A circular, requesting a trial of the preparation and a report of the result, accompanied each specimen. Four thousand of the most eminent medical men in the Union promptly responded. Their opinions of the article were unanimously favorable. Such a preparation, they said, had long been wanted by the profession, as no reliance could be placed on the ordinary liquors of commerce, all of which were more or less adulterated, and therefore unfit for medical purposes. The peculiar excellence and strength of the oil of juniper, which formed one of the principal ingredients of the Schnapps, together with an unalloyed character of the alcoholic element, give it, in the estimation of the faculty, a marked superiority over every other diffusive stimulant as a diuretic, tonic and restorative.

These satisfactory credentials from professional men of the highest rank were published in a condensed form, and enclosed with each bottle of the Schnapps, as one of the guarantees of its genuineness. Other precautions against fraud were also adopted; a patent was obtained for the article, the label was copyrighted, a fac simile of the proprietor's autograph signature was attached to each label and cover, his name and that of the preparation were embossed on the bottles, and the corks were sealed with his private seal. No article had ever been sold in this country under the name of Schnapps prior to the introduction of Wolfe's Schiedam Schnapps, in 1851; and the label was deposited, as his trade mark, in the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York during that year.

It might be supposed by persons unacquainted with the daring character of the parties who prey upon the reputation of honorable merchants by vending deleterious trash under their name, that the protections so carefully thrown around these Schnapps would have precluded the introduction of any counterfeits. They seem, however, only to have stimulated the rapacity of impostors. The trade mark of the proprietor has been stolen; the indorsement which his Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps alone received from the medical profession has been claimed by mendacious humbugs; his labels and bottles have been imitated, his advertisements paraphrased, his circulars copied, and worse than all, disinterable relatives, after disposing of the genuine contents of his bottles, have refilled them with common gin, the most deleterious of all liquors, and thus made his name and brand a cover for poison.

The public, the medical profession and the sick for whom the Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps is prescribed as a remedy, are equally interested with the proprietor in the detection and suppression of these nefarious practices. The genuine article, manufactured at the establishment of he undersigned, in Schiedam, Holland, is distilled from a barley of the finest quality, and flavored with an essential extract of the berry of the Italian juniper, of unequaled purity. By a process unknown in the preparation of any other liquor, it is freed from every acrimonious and corrosive element.

Complaints have been received from the leading physicians and families in the Southern States of the sale of cheap imitations of the Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps in those markets; and travellers, who are in the habit of using it as an antidote to the baneful influence of unwholesome river water, testify that cheap gin, put up in Schiedam bottles, is frequently palmed off upon the unwary. The agents of the undersigned have been requested to institute inquiries on the subject, and to forward to him the names of such parties as they may ascertain to be engaged in this atrocious system of deception. In conclusion, the undersigned would say that he has produced, from under the hands of the most distinguished men of science in America, proofs unanswerable of the purity and medicinal excellence of the Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps; that he has expended many thousand dollars in surrounding it with guarantees and safeguards, which he designed should protect the public and himself against fraudulent imitations; that he has shown it to be the only liquor in the world that can be uniformly depended upon as unadulterated; that he has challenged investigation, analysis, comparison, and experiment in all its forms; and from every quarter the preparation which bears the name, seal and trade mark, has come off triumphant. He therefore feels it a duty he owes to his fellow-citizens generally, to the medical profession and the sick, to denounce and to expose the cupidians who counterfeit these evidences of identity, and he calls upon the press and the public to aid him in his efforts to remedy so great an evil.

The following letters and certificates from the leading physicians and chemists of this city will prove to the reader that all goods sold by the undersigned are all they are represented to be.

UDOLPHO WOLFE.

I feel bound to say, that I regard your Schnapps as being in every respect pre-eminently pure, and deserving of medical patronage. At all events, it is the purest possible article of Holland Gin, heretofore unobtainable, and, as such, may be safely prescribed by physicians.

UDOLPHO WOLFE, Esq., Present:

DEAR SIR:—I have made a chemical examination of a sample of your Schiedam Schnapps, with the intent of determining if any foreign or injurious substance had been added to the simple distilled spirits.

The examination has resulted in the conclusion that the sample contained no poisonous or harmful admixture. I have been unable to discover any trace of the deleterious substances which are employed in the adulteration of liquors. I would not hesitate to use myself or to recommend to others, for medical purposes, the Schiedam Schnapps as an excellent and unobjectionable variety of Gin.

Very respectfully yours,
(Signed,) CHAS. A. SEELY, Chemist.

DEATH OF GEN. ROBERT W. HAYWOOD.

We are pained to announce the death of our much esteemed good friend, Gen. Robert W. Haywood, who died Monday night, at 10 o'clock, in the house of his sister, Mrs. Lucy Bryan.

Gen. Haywood was in the 56th year of his age. His health had not been good for some time; his friends and attendants did not anticipate such a sudden and sad end to his sickness. He died suddenly, surrounded by kindred and friends to whom he was as dear as life itself. He had the death which knows no pain, and which is to the body, sleep without waking. General Haywood was possessed of a good heart, good head, and a high sense of honor.

These were his characteristics which had endeared him to all who knew him. If he had enemies, we never heard of them.

His wife had died long before him,—he leaves a little daughter 10 years of age.—The child is not alone in her bereavement, and mourning; the whole City partake of her sorrow. Kindred and friends, to whom he was dear, will bend with the child over the bier of the father, feeling as she feels, weeping as she weeps, for one, who never can return.

DEATH OF SENATOR RICH, OF PITT.

This gentleman died at his boarding house in this City Monday evening. Both branches of the General Assembly passed resolutions and adjourned over yesterday out of respect to his memory.

We are informed that he had made many personal friends in the Legislature even among his political opponents. He was a Republican, and a Northern man by birth But he was regarded as one of the most liberal men of his party in his personal feelings. It is said that as a member of the late Constitutional Convention he was opposed to inserting proscriptive features in the State Constitution, and that to him probably more than to any other member of his party, it is owing that many such provisions were left out of it. When death, the stern leveler comes, we are disposed to forget differences of opinion, and observe the maxim of old times. "De mortuis nil nisi bonum."

REV. THOS. G. LOWE, DEAD.—We regret to learn, that this distinguished man died in the town of Halifax, N. C., on Saturday last. Rev. Thos. G Lowe, was a local minister of the M. E. Church, South. His health has been declining for some months. The intelligence of Mr. L's. death will be received with sadness by the thousands who have for years sat under his ministry. He was a man of great amiability, quiet and unoffending, and universally beloved. As an eloquent preacher he has seldom been excelled. He was a good man and his end was peace.

FAST MEN, FAST HORSES AND HANDSOME WOMEN.—If there is any one thing our city excels in, it is her fast men, fast horses and handsome women. The beautiful weather, with which we have been favored, has had the effect of bringing out the fast horses, and our "Broadway," Fayetteville Street, presents quite an exciting scene,—2 40 drives, handsome ladies mounted on fine animals,—pedestrians, of the fair order, with all the fashions, blockade the pavements, and bewitch the young men. Every body is in pursuit of an object, and but few ever reach it. It keeps just in view, and lends sufficient charms to stimulate the seeker to press ahead; and, by-and-by, he gives up the chase, sinks down and exclaims, "all is vanity and vexation."

PERSONAL.—Mr. F. H. Sterns, of the Newbern Times, called on us Monday evening accompanied by our old friend, Charlie Preston, of Johnston.

We learn, from the Standard, that Mr. Jno. N. Washington, of Newbern, died in that city, a few days ago. Mr. W. was well known in Eastern North Carolina, and was deservedly popular. He was a man of fine intellect, and a prominent citizen.

Our thanks are due to a friend at Roxabel, Bertie Co., for a handsome list of new subscribers to the Sentinel. We are receiving, daily, large accessions to our subscription list, and we take this occasion to thank our numerous friends for the interest which they have manifested in the Sentinel. We hope they will not relax their efforts to extend our circulation.

The Concert recently given in Fayetteville, by the young ladies, for the benefit of the Presbyterian Church, of that place, was a success. Amount realized, $160.

SENATE PROCEEDINGS, MONDAY, FEB. 15.
(CONCLUDED.)

Mr. Wynne, by leave, introduced a resolution directing the Secretary of State to notify the Senate what number of Registration books he ordered, how many he disposed of and to whom, and the amount of money he drew to meet the expense, for distribution, and by what authority.

Mr. Wynne said:

Mr. President, the reasons that actuate me to introduce this resolution arises from the fact that a difference of opinion, or a question of veracity, has arisen between the Secretary of the State and a Clerk of his department. The Clerk alleges that the Secretary of State has refused to pay him for services rendered in his office, as per contract, and he further alleges that he has been deceived, in toto, by that officer.—Now, Mr. President, I submit that we have been abused enough, and so long as rumors of this character are allowed to be circulated, without a thorough investigation of them, on our part, we shall be abused continually, and if there is any just ground for such rumors we should purge ourselves of the offenders. We have been called a buzzard's nest, in Heaven's name if there are to be found any vultures among us let them take their departure. I trust, Sir, that the Senate will meet this question as it deserves. If the Secretary of State be guilty of wrong let him be punished. If he is innocent it is but just that he should have an opportunity of relieving himself of the charges prefered. I do not make the charges, but his Clerk does, and says he can substantiate them. Now, Mr. President, it is alleged that the Secretary of State is a bankrupt, and, yet, it is said that he has purchased a $1,500 piano for his wife to play Yankee doodle on. I do not understand these things, perhaps others may I cannot conceive how a bankrupt, who has but recently received a discharge, can purchase a $1,500 piano. If there is wrong here I demand, in the name of our good old State, that it should be righted, we must do one of two things, we must preserve our integrity or we must go down.—If there are men here cloched in the robes of office who are dishonest, in Heaven's name, let us get them out from among us. Let the Secretary be brought before the bar of this Senate and dispose of this matter at once. If this resolution fails to pass I have another which will reach the case, but, I trust, the Senate will not hesitate a moment but pass this resolution. The whole world is talking about us. We are called a set of nigger loving devils, that hav'nt sense enough to put our hats on. In Heaven's name let us redeem our honor!

Mr. Sweet said, Mr. President, I have listened with no little surprise to the remarks made by the Senator from Franklin, I do not aim to oppose the resolution, on the contrary I intended to support it. I believe the Secretary of State will demand it, but simply in defence of the Secretary of State I desire to give this Senate what information I have in reference to the character of this ready witness, or the man who makes those grave charges. There was a man who did clerk for the Secretary of State, by the name of Benjamin. At one time he was a man of some respectability, but he has fallen very low by his association or intimate connection with one John, better known as Demijohn; some time previous to his being employed in the Secretary's office he was employed in the office of the Newbern Republican. He came up here and applied to the Secretary for employment in his office, thinking, it might be the means of reforming him, the Secretary agreed to take him upon certain conditions, to wit: that he would refrain from the use of intoxicating drink, reserving the right, that if he (Benjamin) violated his pledge, to discharge him at once. Benjamin did violate his pledge so openly that it became necessary to discharge him. The Secretary informs me that he paid him up in full for all the service rendered in his office. Benjamin claims that the money paid him by the Secretary was on wages due him for services rendered in the Republican office at Newbern, and there is a bill either in this House, or the other, before the Committee on Claims, to pay him for services rendered the State in the Secretary of States office, which has been in their hands for some time, the Committee has not reported on it, and it ought not. To give you an idea how far this man has allowed intoxicating drink to get the better of him, I will state an instance, which will convince the Senate that it has affected his mind. I called at the office of the Newbern Republican while he was there, on one occasion, he addressed me very politely, as he always does and told me he had a very interesting book, that he desired to present to me. I thanked him and accepted it; to my surprise it was the cover of an old book filled with numerous military orders; this was his interesting book. I have it in my possession now and if any Senator desires to peruse this interesting volume it is at his service. And this is the character Mr. President of the man who makes these grave charges against the Secretary of State.

Mr. We ker said it seemed that we had arrived at a period in our history when we had nothing to do but to investigate the character of our public officers. If the General Assembly took it upon themselves to investigate all the charges and rumors in circulation relating to our public officers, they would not have time to do much else. He was opposed to going into any investigation unless charges were presented in a proper form, from some responsible person. He thought any other policy would simply expose the General Assembly to ridicule and contempt.

Mr. Graham said he was not disposed to vote for a measure which requires a man to answer questions imputing wrong to himself in the absence of any evidence of his guilt. He thought the proper mode to pursue would be to raise a Committee to investigate the charges first.

Mr. Wynne, by leave, withdrew his resolution and offered another, instructing the Committee appointed to investigate the affairs of the Treasurer's office; to investigate, also, the affairs of the Secretary of State's office.

Mr. Wynne said:

Mr. President, I had hoped that the Senate would have passed the first resolution at once, and I appeal to them, as Senators, to pass this resolution without consuming more time. If the Secretary of State is innocent, when this investigation is had, he will be happy. There is a statement that we are charged $15,000 for stationery. Now Sir, I am confident, and am willing to qualify, that I have not used exceeding $4 worth. Mr. President, I never was accused of stealing anything in my life. I never did steal anything, neither did I ever accept a bribe of any kind. I am not a bankrupt and never was; I have always been able to pay my honest debts; but sir, if charges of this character were preferred against me, I should seek and demand an investigation, because it would give me an opportunity to refute them. For that reason sir, I do not see how Senators can consistently rue a proposition of this character into a reflection on the integrity of the Secretary of State. I cannot see why it is, sir, that on every occasion when the Secretary of State is brought into requisition before this body, that the Senator from Craven is the first to defend him. I do not impugn that Senator's motives, because I believe him to be an honorable gentleman. He would not do a wrong. Look at his face; Senators; he looks more like an innocent, sweet-faced girl than anything else. But what is his motive? Probably it arises from a kind disposition. If I may be permitted to say it, if the Secretary has a pretty sister, I should suspect at once that the Senator is in love.

Mr. Sweet said that after the many pleasant allusions of the Senator from Franklin, he was almost persuaded to vote for the resolution, but upon investigation he had ascertained that both of the resolutions introduced by the Senator, had been drawn and were in the hand writing of the man who has made the charges. He did not think the Senate should be in haste to act upon such evidence, and hoped it would be voted down.

On motion of Mr. Moore, of Carteret, the whole matter was laid on the table.

Our Washington Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 13, 1869.

Mr. Editor:—I am in a pack of trouble. I have come all the way to this city, the Capital of the greatest nation on earth, the seat of the best Government, &c., &c.—you know the rest,—to see the sights and also to join the happy company of office-seekers now gathering here from the East and the West, the North and the South, of all nations, tongues and peoples, black and white ring-streaked and speckled.

I have been eating dirt for the last two or three years, along with the rest of our native Radicals, and now I want my reward. I have called upon the three or four very great men who have been elected by our party to represent our great and glorious State, and have presented my claims as a reconstructed citizen thereof, and, as I have them writ down, I will send you a copy, that you may publish for the benefit of the nine thousand, nine hundred and ninety-nine others who will soon be here, in person or by letter, that they may know what will be required of them.

"Firstly, gentlemen," said I to the great men aforesaid, and I had writ down the word "gentlemen," so as not to forget it, "I need not tell you that Billy Holden is the foremost man in all our country." Here winks were exchanged, and there was a slight turning up of noses perceptible; but I went on:—"well, I am a Holden man to the core. I used to be a Union man, but I got to reading the Standard, and Billy's arguments in favor of State Rights and Secession convinced me of the error of my ways and made me as rantankerous a Secessionist as he was, and I have felt it my duty, since my conversion, to follow him in all his tortuous ways, his windings in and crawling out. Thus, when he damned all the 'Yankees' who came to settle among us, and wanted them all kicked out of North Carolina, though I knew many of northern birth who were very clever fellows, his arguments convinced me that they ought not to be allowed to stay among us, and so when he said 'kick 'em out,' I said 'go it Billy, kick 'em out.' When he got after our native-born, anti-slavery men, and denounced Professor Hedrick on account of his anti-slavery opinions, and finally succeeded in running him out of the State, I again shouted 'hurra! let no man stay here, Billy, who is'nt sound on the goose.'—When, a member of the Convention, he signed the ordinance of secession with a new pen and flourished it over his head and declared that it was never to be used again but laid aside as an heir loom for his children; I hurrahed, of course. When he abused all the Confederate leaders who would not adopt his plans for whipping the 'Yankees,' I said all right, Billy, them's my sentiments! After the tide of war turned unmistakably against us, and that great man began to crawfish out of the opinions he had so boldly expressed, while there was a hope of Confederate success, I crawfished too, and together we crawled over to the soon-to be strong side. When, on the arrival of the "Union" (late "Yankee") army in Raleigh, he "thanked God that the glorious Stars and Stripes once more waved over the Capitol." I said 'amen—we always have loved that old flag, Billy,' tho' I had repeatedly called it 'the grid-iron,' 'the emblem of oppression,' and such like, as I had been taught by the Standard, and when he came to this city to get, from Mr. Johnson, the appointment as military Governor, and vowed and declared that he 'had been a Union man first, last and all the time, that he had signed the ordinance of secession under compulsion'—why, I conveniently forgot all about the grand flourish mentioned above, and said, that's so, Billy, you were compelled to put your name to that paper. In fact, I followed him into secession; in his crusade against the "Yankees" traitors, out of secession, and since they have got all the power I have prayed to be taken to their bosoms, and joined him in licking their boots. More than this, when, as military Governor, he threatened to suppress all newspapers in the State opposed to us and our Northern allies, who had so affectionately and disinterestedly invaded our soil and stole our clothes and other traffic, all for 'the love of the Union,' and to show us what vile sinners we were in trying to rid ourselves of association with such excellent people, I said, 'go it Gov.—these rascally Carolinians have no rights that we loyal men are bound to respect."

"But, gentlemen," I continued, "I have not only followed closely in the footsteps of the illustrious father, but, I have helped Joseph William in his efforts to drink up all the bad whiskey in Raleigh." This last stroke seemed to make a great impression on one of them, and he told me that they would consider my application, and let me know in a day or two. That very night, however, he came to my boarding-house, and when we were alone together, he said, "my friend, I am instructed by my learned and patriotic, but hungry colleagues, to ask you a question which we have found necessary to ask all your countrymen since we have been in the State: How much money have you got in your clothes?" After a thorough search I was forced to answer: "Nary red." "Then," said he, "my friend, your chances for office under the next administration are very slim. In following the great man who has done our dirty work for the last three years, you have done well; he is a burning and a shining light among the natives, who, by the rebels, are called "scallawags," and whom we have let in temporarily, I say "temporarily," (for we mean to rid ourselves of them very soon) merely to localize our party. "But, sir," and here he shut one eye and looked knowing, "money is necessary—we have all had to buy our places; it cost me a cool thousand to buy off that d—d nigger—and without money, no man has ever received anything from us." "But, Colonel," said I, "I haven't had an office yet, and have not therefore had a chance to steal anything; but in case I do get one I promise you to use due diligence and steal all I can, and to make a fair divvy." "That would be a condition, precedent, of course, and of the party applicants for each place in North Carolina, all, with but few exceptions, have made a similar promise and are willing to give a bonus besides. Look around among your friends and try and raise some money, for money makes the mare go, you know; all this is in confidence, but remember our terms are: so much down, and a fair division of all that is stolen;" and so we parted.

Now, Mr. Editor, can't you inform me of some one who has money to lend on a small farm in Wake—for money I must have if I would get the office I have set my heart upon, and though we are politically opposed now, as we were, indeed, when you were for the Union before the war and Billy Holden and I were doing all we could to break it up—yet, I know your good nature will not allow you to slight the appeal of ERRORS OF YOUTH.

A gentleman who suffered for years from Nervous Debility, Premature Decay, and all the effects of youthful indiscretion, will, for the sake of suffering humanity, send free to all who need it, the receipt and directions for making the simple remedy by which he was cured. Sufferers wishing to profit by the advertiser's experience, can do so by addressing, in perfect confidence, JOHN B. OGDEN,
Feb. 4-w3m No. 42 Cedar St., N. Y.

To Consumptives.

The Advertiser, having been restored to health in a few weeks, by a very simple remedy, after having suffered several years with a severe lung affection, and that dread disease, Consumption—is anxious to make known to his fellow-sufferers the means of cure.

To all who desire it, he will send a copy of the prescription used (free of charge), with the directions for preparing and using the same, which they will find a sure cure for Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis etc. The object of the advertiser in sending the prescription is to benefit the afflicted, and spread information which he conceives to be invaluable; and he hopes every sufferer will try his remedy, as it will cost them nothing, and may prove a blessing.

Parties wishing the prescription, will please address REV EDWARD A. WILSON,

LIFE INSURANCE
NATIONAL
LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,
OF THE
UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,
WASHINGTON, D. C.

Chartered by Special Act of Congress, Approved July 25th, 1868.

CASH CAPITAL,
$1,000,000,
PAID IN FULL.

BRANCH OFFICE:
FIRST NATIONAL BANK BUILDING,
PHILADELPHIA,

where the general business of the Company is transacted, and to which all general correspondence should be addressed.

OFFICERS.

CLARENCE H. CLARK, President.
JAY COOK, Chairman Finance and Executive Committee.
HENRY D. COOKE, Vice President.
EMERSON W. PEET, Secretary and Actuary.

This Company, National in its character, offers, by reason of its large capital, low rates of Premium, and New Tables, the most desirable means of insuring life yet presented to the public.

The rates of premium being largely reduced, are made as favorable to the insurers as those of the best Mutual Companies, and avoid all the complications and uncertainties of Notes. Dividends and the misunderstandings which the latter are so apt to cause the Policy-holder.

Several new and attractive tables are now presented, which need only to be understood to prove acceptable to the public, such as the INCOME-PRODUCING POLICY and RETURN PREMIUM POLICY. In the former the policy-holder not only secures a life insurance, payable at death, but will receive, if living, after a period of a few years, an ANNUAL INCOME equal to ten per cent. (10 per cent.) of the par of his policy. In the latter the Company agrees to return to the assured the total amount of money he has paid in, in addition to the amount of his policy.

The organization of this Company on the LOW RATE, CASH PLAN, with new features and unequaled security, has evoked the most remarkable opposition from other and rival Companies. By means, fair and unfair, they have sought to injure the new system, and have attacked it with a degree of virulence unknown in the history of Life Insurance.

Not satisfied with the immense sums of money paid Insurance and other journals, to try and check the rapid progress of the National, an unsuccessful motion was made in Congress to repeal its charter, all of which but accelerated its speed for since then the largest policies issued has been to members of Congress, whose attention has been thus attracted to its unsurpassed advantages. In the face of this opposition, the work of the Company has gone steadily forward, and it is with no little satisfaction that the GENERAL AGENTS are able to state that the business to date is far in advance of anything hitherto accomplished.

In Six Months 3,000 Policies have Been Issued.

INSURING, IN ROUND NUMBERS,
$10,000,000.

The attention of persons contemplating insuring their lives, or increasing the amount of insurance they already have, is called to the special advantages offered by the National Life Insurance Co.

ENCOURAGE HOME ENTERPRIZE!

North Carolina Mutual Home Insurance Company!

INCORPORATED DECEMBER, 1868.

CHARTERED CAPITAL,	AMOUNT NOW LIABLE FOR LOSSES.
$500,000.	$170,000.

OFFICERS:
JAMES H. FOOTE, President.

" " Eastern " THOS. THOMPSON.

Office; First door South of Raleigh Nat. Bank, RALEIGH, N. C.

THIS HOME COMPANY, CHARTERED BY the Legislature of North Carolina, insures property against loss or damage by

FIRE, LIGHTNING, OR TORNADO,

and does business on the Mutual and Joint Stock plans.

The character of those who control the affairs of the Company is a sufficient guarantee that it is, what it professes to be, a HOME ENTERPRIZE, offering ample and liberal protection against loss by fire, &c., on the most easy and liberal terms to insurers.

The TWENTY THOUSAND DOLLARS in N. C. Bonds, required by the Charter to be deposited with the Public Treasurer, have promptly been so deposited and the Treasurer's receipt therefor obtained.

Policies are issued for a term not to exceed five years.

No other Company offers greater inducements to Insurers.

Now is the time for all who feel any interest in a HOME INSTITUTION to come forward and encourage this Company—receiving, as they will, reciprocal benefit in the enhancement of value and protection of their property.

For further particulars, address the Secretary, or consult General or Local Agents, who will, in due time, be announced.

ALL LOSSES PROMPTLY ADJUSTED AND PAID.

NEW ARRANGEMENT.

The RALEIGH SENTINEL having passed under the Editorial management of the undersigned, it will, from the present date, be conducted by him.

It will be the zealous and fearless advocate of the CONSTITUTION of the United States, seeking to bring the people back to their ancient reverence for that immortal instrument, and to restore the policy of the country to that honored standard, as the only guarantee of National prosperity.

It will do justice to the men and measures of the present day, whenever they may merit it, but it will unsparingly lash and denounce all who set themselves up in opposition to the Federal Constitution, and hold up to the public indignation corruption and imbecility in high places.

It will ardently seek the promotion of the best interests of North Carolina,—moral, educational, material and political.

THE LATEST NEWS

From every quarter, both by mail and telegraph, will be carefully collated and presented.

Full and correct market and financial reports will be given.

And, in one word, no effort will be spared to make the SENTINEL, in all respects, a reliable

FIRST CLASS NEWSPAPER.

NEW METHOD OF WASHING CLOTHES WITHOUT LABOR.

THE AUTOMATIC
CLOTHES WASHER AND BOILER.

THIS BOILER IS MOST EFFECTUAL, reliable and universally recommended. It can be used on any Stove or Range, to any boiler, and at low rates of the articles places it within the reach of every family.

This Boiler operates upon purely philosophical principles, is self-acting, and dispenses with labor and the wear of the clothes.

The hot suds and steam, by the action of heat, are driven up through tubes poured upon the clothes, and forced through the fabric with astonishing rapidity, cleansing all articles, from the finest laces to the bed-blanket. For Flannels it is invaluable, as it does not full them as in the old process of rubbing and pressing.

The time required for cleansing a boiler full of clothes is twenty to thirty minutes, and nearly three hundred gallons of boiling suds are forced through the fabric, thoroughly loosening and eradicating the dirt WITHOUT LABOR or friction.—A thorough rinsing finishes the process.

Washing day will no longer be a terror and dread to housewives. The cost of the Boiler will soon be returned in the SAVING OF TIME AND LABOR, and the great saving in the wear of clothes.

The great value of this invention appears so clear, and appeals so directly to common sense, that we have deemed it unnecessary to accompany its introduction with numerous letters of approval, &c.

No invention has met with such ready sale and given such satisfaction. Call at LOUGEE & BROTHER'S, and see its wonderful operations.—We have the exclusive right to sell and manufacture in the State.

MY STOCK IS LARGE AND VERY COMplete. Allow me to say that you see some very strange advertisements. Some say they bought goods before the rise—some after the decline—some just in time—some in luck again—some buy goods cheaper than anybody else—some selling goods at unprecedentedly low prices—some contesting the trade &c., &c., and all such stuff. What a sucky set of individuals!

Now just let ME tell you, that there is more humbug than poetry in all this. Don't every man, woman and child know that it is humbug—large enough to be seen even with one eye shut? so let them talk, puff and blow, but stop, LOOK OUT! HANDS OFF! and show your good judgment by
